THURSDAY, Aug. 8. CHILD KILLED .- A deplorable accident occurred on the New York and New Haven Railroad Tues, day morning, in front of the Stamford Station house. The 8 o'clock train from New-York had resched that spot, where it remained a few minutes, and had just started forward when an alarm was given and the train stopped, but too late to prevent a terrible accident. It appears that a lady from New-York was standing on the platform of the third car with her little daughter, seven years of age, and as the train was started the child fell off, and mest unfortunately attempted to creep out from the track beneath the wheels, which of course ten over ber, cutting off her leg at the thigh. The peor child died soon afterward.

A Malicious Trick - Somebody sends us a statement to the effect that after the Scottish Guards had embarked on board the steamboat, upon the cecasion of their recent excursion to New-Haven, some malicious'y disposed person "telegraphed" on to that city that the Scottish Guards had given up their intention and would not visit New-Haven. By this paltry meanness upward of a hundred ladies and their children-the families of members of the Company-were deprived of their breakfast. The inconvenience, bowever, was in a great measure overcome by the attentions of Mr. Haymend of the Tontine Hotel.

The priest, instead of cursing the Protestants as formerly, now orders his people to pray for them, and even for the American preachers. The whole field of Contral Armenia wears an aspect of peculiar promise. The movement toward light is deep and noiseless, but none the less certain; and will sooner or later be developed in all its stupendous results. Mr. Schnei. der, in a letter dated May 22, describes his visit to Orfs, a city containing 20,000 inhabitants. It is supposed to be Ur of the Chaldees, where Abraham was born, and is regarded as a place peculiar-ly surred by the oriental charches, on that account. He is desirous that ten additional men be imus intely sent out to occupy that interesting field.

There are also about 400 who are absent in Cablornia and elsewhere. During the same time. there were only 67 births, showing that the population must soon disappear. Romanism, Mr. L. says, is manifestly expiring. There is only one R. asis, is manifestly expiring. There is only one R. C. school left, and that is ready to periah. One of their teachers resently united with the Protestant mission and renders valuable services.

A letter from the Trebizond station, dated Jane 1, states that the indications are numerous and cleft, that truth is making rapid progress; even in the old Armenian Church. Among them are the following: The confessional is generally neglected: fasting is almost universally violated; preaching is much more evangelical, and orders have been re-ceived from Constantinople for the establishment ceived from Constantinople for the establishment of a large school at Trebizond, designed to oppose Protestantism; but, judging from past experience, it is believed it will be an auxiliary. The general impression is, that the Church is to be transformed. Expressions like the following are often heard: "We know there is much wrong in our Church; but it will do no good for two or three to leave it. We will stey and convict errors, and eventually all will become Protestants."
